Vietnam Snapshot

THE UNIVERSITY of ADELAIDE

The University of Adelaide (UoA) has an expanding profile in Vietnam, involving partnerships across the country that promote diverse education and research initiatives. A number of partnership agreements are in place to support academic collaboration, professional development and student exchange programs. The University welcomes opportunities to deepen relationships with agencies, organisations and universities in Vietnam.

290 UoA students involved in exchange or a study tour in Vietnam (since 2017).

14 active agreements
supporting academic and research collaboration including credit transfer arrangements and student mobility.

248 co-publications
with institutions in Vietnam <51 authors (since 2017).

413 students
are currently enrolled at UoA (since 2017).

11 partner institutions
in Vietnam.*

1193 UoA alumni
are from Vietnam.*

Train the Trainer program

From mid-September to mid-December 2022, a three month 'Train the Trainer' program was delivered by the University of Adelaide's (UoA) School of Economics and Public Policy, within the Faculty of Arts, Business, Law and Economics, to selected staff from the National Economics University (NEU) in Vietnam.

The three NEU staff members selected for the program were immersed in the Australian higher education academic and research environment, matched to a mentor from the same or a similar academic field, and presented with opportunities to observe and participate in teaching and research.

Each participant enrolled in three UoA courses to gain insights into their chosen academic field. As well as the opportunity for the NEU staff to experience teaching and research delivery at UoA, the program further builds upon the positive relationship between the NEU and UoA.

(L-R) Mai Vu Xuan Hoanh, Lecturer for Quality Management; Professor Vu Kim Dung, Professor of Economics; Pham Thi Thanh Huyen, Lecturer for Faculty of Tourism and Hospitality, NEU; Phillip Fredericks, Associate Director, Global Partnerships, UoA.

For further information please contact:
Global Engagement, the University of Adelaide | globalengagement@adelaide.edu.au

*Data as of February 2023.
Managed by Global Engagement, UoA.

CRICOS 00123M