Hosted by The University of Adelaide. Sponsored by the The Association of Commonwealth Universities and The Times Higher Education Supplement
1920 - 2020	Traditional Aboriginal Welcome to Country* by Kurna Elders Lewis O'Brien and Josie Agius. Brief addresses by Mr Michael Harbison, the Rt Hon the Lord Mayor of Adelaide, Professor Kottlilil Mohandas, Chair, The Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU) and Professor James McWha, Vice-Chancellor and President, The University of Adelaide. Elder Conservatorium Chorale presentation directed by Carl Crossin; the Elder Conservatorium of Music at The University of Adelaide is Australia's senior music academy, dating back to 1883. The Elder Conservatorium Chorale is drawn from students across all the specialist music programs, including instrumentalists and composers, as well as those majoring in singing. Mr Carl Crossin, of the Elder Conservatorium, is one of Australia's most highly regarded choral directors.
The Association of Commonwealth Universities Welcome Address
Senator The Hon Amanda Vanstone Minister for Immigration and Multicultural Affairs, Australian Federal Government
2200	Buses return to hotels

* Prior to European settlement, the Adelaide area was inhabited by the Kurna Aboriginal people. Acknowledged Kurna country comprised the Adelaide Plains and surrounding regions - from Cape Jervis in the south to Port Wakefield in the north. It is the policy of The University of Adelaide to pay respect to the Kurna people, the traditional custodians of the land, with a Welcome to Country. Welcome to Country acknowledges the significance of Indigenous culture, particularly in respect of the local community and the land on which people stand.
