MEMBER GRADES AND MEMBERSHIP FEES

GRADES

Fellows: are senior members of the Institute who have achieved a position of high responsibility and have contributed significantly to the advancement of the field through research or practice, or both. Fellowship is by conferment by the Council based on proposals made by the Executive Committee of the Institute.

Members: have a serious interest in the field, support the aim and objectives of the Institute and hold at least an acceptable bachelor degree in structural, civil, mechanical or material engineering or a related discipline, or equivalent.

Associate Members: support the aim and objectives of the Institute but do not qualify for full membership.

Collective Members: Organisations with a business interest in the field of FRP in construction and support the aim and objectives of the Institute can be accepted as Collective Members. Each Collective Member shall nominate two representatives to each exercise the rights and receive the privileges available to a full individual member.

Patron Members: Organisations qualified for a Collective Membership of IIFC may join as a Patron Member by invitation of the Executive Committee. A Patron Membership indicates special dedication of an organisation to IIFC. A Patron Member is offered high visibility in IIFC's publications and activities, and through its web site. Each Patron Member shall nominate four representatives to each exercise the rights and receive the privileges available to a full individual member.

ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP FEES

Fellows:	US$ 100
Members:	US$ 100
Associate members:	US$ 50
Collective members:	US$ 750
Patron members:	US$ 3000 or more

Annual membership fees for each calendar year are due on 1 February of that year. Members joining after 1 July may pay half of the fee due for that year.
