

Postgraduate Scholarships

Flagship Collaboration Fund 2012

The CSIRO National Research Flagships program brings together large multidisciplinary teams to focus on Australia's major challenges and opportunities.

Each year, the Flagship Collaboration Fund supports postgraduate (PhD) scholarships for students to work on a project relevant to one of the National Research Flagships. Students are co-supervised by researchers in an Australian university and CSIRO.

In 2012, the Fund will support up to 30 new scholarships.

Top-up scholarships are available to PhD students who have gained (or expect to gain) an Australian Postgraduate Award (APA) or equivalent scholarship. In certain circumstances, full scholarships are also available. International students are eligible to apply, but must be able to show evidence of admission to an Australian university.

Applications open on 1 October and close 30 November 2011.

Each Flagship has produced a list of priority research areas in which it will consider applications. These priority areas, along with the Fund guidelines and links to application forms, are available at

The Flagship Collaboration Fund is an initiative of the National Research Flagships program. Funding is directed outside CSIRO to enhance collaboration and bring the full weight of Australian scientific expertise to bear on major national challenges.
