student and industry program

A series of events bringing together students, graduates, industry leaders and staff of the University.

The Student and Industry Program allows current students to meet and learn from successful professionals from within their chosen field.

In one-off networking events, students have the opportunity to talk one-on-one with industry leaders, gaining practical professional knowledge and helping to define their career goals.

Coordinated by the Development and Alumni office, each discipline-based event provides an open and friendly environment for students to gain knowledge of career opportunities in their field.

Students, industry and the University alike have the opportunity to benefit from the connections made through the Program.

Benefits to Students

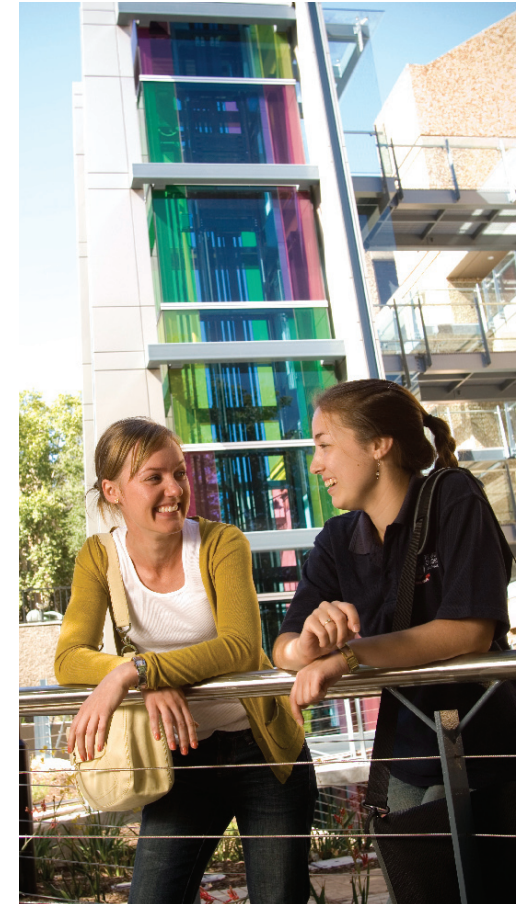

- Opportunity for one-on-one relationships with industry representatives
- Increased career opportunities through networking with senior staff and industry
- Access to new ideas, emerging technologies and research
- Exposure to industry, corporate and public sectors
- Opportunity to meet with other students and discuss future career prospects
