NHMRC's Research Grants Management System \(RGMS\): Implementation Update

The NHMRC's Research Grants Management System (RGMS) will soon be operational for the Profile and CV component of Project Grant and Fellowship applications.

At present access to the RGMS is limited to existing users only. However, it is anticipated that open access to RGMS will be granted sometime in November 2009 following the implementation of 'Identity Lifecycle Management' (ILM). Key features include:

- new users being able to register for RGMS accounts online, allowing a 'head-start' on completing Profile/CV information in RGMS prior to preparing applications;
- allowing existing users to retrieve their username or password (if misplaced or forgotten) via an automated process.

To assist with creating new users of RGMS in a timely manner NHMRC will export, from its present system, the names and contact details of all current NHMRC Grant holders and 2009 peer review participants and import them into RGMS. Once this occurs, these potential users will receive an email advising that they have access and as such will be able to start completing their Profile/CV.

Please regularly check the website for further updates over the coming weeks.

Invitation to Celebrate the University of Adelaide's 2009 applied research achievements

Join the team at Adelaide Research & Innovation for Christmas drinks, to celebrate the University of Adelaide's 2009 applied research achievements. Please see the Invitation Flyer for more information.

Date & Time:

Wed 2 December 09
4:00 - 6:00pm

Guest speaker: Adam Spencer
ABC radio announcer & science ambassador

Venue:

National Wine Centre

Invitation to Attend Harmonisation of Multi-centre Ethical Review Stakeholder Briefings

The National Health & Medical Research Council is inviting interested people to attend an update on Harmonisation of Multi-centre Ethical Review (HoMER) project. Please see the attached flyer for further information and registration details.

National Health & Medical Research Council - European Union Collaborative Research Grants

The NHMRC has undertaken a review of the NHMRC-European Union (EU) Collaborative Research Grants scheme. The scheme helps Australian researchers participate in projects with international researchers under the European Commission's (EC) Seventh Framework Programme (FP7).

The revised NHMRC-EU scheme Funding Policy, approved by Research Committee in May this year, and the revised application form, are now available on the updated webpage of the NHMRC website located at: <http://www.nhmrc.gov.au/grants/types/granttype/strategic/austeu.htm>

Information about the recently published FP7 calls is available on the EC website at: http://cordis.europa.eu/fp7/home_en.html

Health Sciences	US Defense Department of Defense (DOD) Defense Medical Research and Development Program (DMRDP): Basic Research Award (Pre-Applications) This Program Announcement/Funding Opportunity is focused on basic research, defined as research directed towards attaining greater knowledge and understanding of fundamental principles of science and medicine. The DMRDP Basic Research Award is designed to promote new ideas that are still in the early stages of development and have the potential to yield highly impactful data and new avenues of investigation. This mechanism supports conceptually innovative, high-risk/high-reward research that could ultimately lead to critical	3 Dec 2009

	discoveries or major advancements that will accelerate the delivery of new medical countermeasures and information to protect military personnel from a variety of health threats inherent in the military operational environment, and to effectively diagnose and treat these personnel when they are ill or injured. These awards will also support basic research to enhance the training and education of military personnel and health care providers. Presentation of preliminary data is not required. However, investigators must demonstrate logical reasoning and a sound scientific rationale established through a critical review and analysis of the literature for the proposal to be competitive. Research projects should include a well-formulated, testable hypothesis based on strong scientific rationale. Maximum period of performance is 3 years and maximum allowable funding for the entire period of performance is $1,000,000 for direct costs. For further information and application instructions, please visit: http://www07.grants.gov/search/search.do?&mode=VIEW&flag2006=false&oppId=50186
Health Sciences	Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation International (JDRF): Career Development Award JDRF fosters the development and productivity of the best and the brightest established independent researchers who will bridge the gap between the bench and bedside. The primary purpose of the Career Development Award is to attract qualified and promising scientists early in their faculty careers and to give them the opportunity to establish themselves in areas that reflect the JDRF research emphasis areas. In the five-year term of the award, awardees will focus their research efforts on a subject directly related to JDRF mission goals and research priorities, and position themselves to work at the leading edge of type 1 diabetes research. These awards are designed to assist exceptionally promising investigators. Although JDRF is especially interested in fostering careers in clinical investigation, Career Development Awards may emphasize either basic or clinical topics. The Career Development Award is intended for individuals in a relatively early stage of their career. Ordinarily, their first degree (MD, PhD, DMD, DVM, or equivalent) will have been received at least three but not more than seven years before the award. The applicant must hold an academic faculty level position (including assistant professor or equivalent) at the time of the application, at a university, health science center, or comparable institution with strong, well-established research and training programs for the chosen area of interest. There are no citizenship requirements for this program. Career Development Award research may be conducted at foreign and domestic, for-profit and non-profit, and public and private organizations—such as universities, colleges, hospitals, laboratories, units of state and local governments, and eligible agencies of the federal government. The award is up to USD 150,000 per year, including indirect costs. For further information and application instructions, please visit: http://www.jdrf.org/index.cfm?page_id=103207	13 Jan 2010
Health Sciences	Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation International (JDRF): Early Career-Patient Oriented Diabetes Award The JDRF Early Career Patient-Oriented Diabetes Research Award will provide crucial support to investigators who plan to pursue a career in diabetes-related clinical investigation. These prestigious awards are made in the later stages of training and include the ability for recipients to transition to independent faculty or research appointments. The award has a five-year term. The successful candidate will have an MD or MD-PhD, hold an appointment or joint appointment in a subspecialty of clinical medicine, and conduct human clinical research. In exceptional circumstances, non-MD candidates will be considered if their work is likely to contribute significantly to a clinical outcome. The candidate must hold an appointment or joint appointment in a clinical department. For the purposes of this award, clinical research is defined as research conducted with human subjects for which the investigator directly interacts with the subjects. Areas of relevant research can include (but are not limited to): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ mechanisms of human disease; ■ therapeutic interventions; ■ clinical trials; 	13 Jan 2010

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> the development of new technologies. There are no citizenship requirements for this program. Research may be conducted at foreign and domestic, for-profit and non-profit, and public and private organizations-such as universities, colleges, hospitals, laboratories, units of state and local governments, and eligible agencies of the federal government. Health Sciences	Dystonia Medical Research Foundation: Research Grants Research Grants support hypothesis-driven research at the genetic, molecular, cellular, systems or behavioral levels that may, directly or indirectly, lead to a better understanding of the pathophysiology of dystonia or to new therapies for dystonia. Research Grants are funded up to $65,000 per year for one or two years, at the Foundation's sole discretion. The applicant seeking Foundation funding must be employed at a for-profit or non-profit organization or institution (each referred to as a "Grantee Institution") within the United States, Canada, or those foreign countries where supervision of grant administration is possible. For further information and application instructions, please visit: http://www.dystonia-foundation.org/pages/funding_opportunities/142.php	8 Dec 2009
Health Sciences	Parkinson's Disease Foundation: International Research Grants Program (IRGP) The International Research Grants Program (IRGP) is designed to promote innovative research that has a high potential to significantly advance the knowledge of Parkinson's disease (PD) but little likelihood of securing funding through more traditional sources. By supporting novel, "high risk/high reward" research, the goal of the IRGP is to enable investigators to demonstrate the feasibility of their ideas while generating preliminary data necessary for the support of future funding. IRGP awards will now reach a maximum of $75,000 per year for two years (compared to the previous maximum of $50,000 for only one year of research), subject to review of first year progress. The IRGP is open to applicants both nationally and internationally and basic, translational and clinical research proposals are eligible for support. All applicants must possess a Ph.D. or a M.D. (or equivalent). Preference will be given to scientists who are at an early stage in their professional careers. For further information and application instructions, please visit: http://www.pdf.org/en/grant_funding_irg	25 Jan 2010

3,300 Australians who, like Churchill, are innovative, filled with a spirit of determination and possess a strong desire to benefit their community.

A Churchill Fellowship is the provision of financial support to enable ordinary Australians from all walks of life to undertake a period of overseas study, or an investigative project, that cannot be readily undertaken in Australia. Churchill Fellowships allow you to design your own research project, travel the world and further your knowledge in your chosen field, before returning to make a real contribution to Australian society.

Multidisciplinary	Ambassade de France (Embassy of France), Canberra: Cotutelle Travelling Grants Cotutelle students are PhD students who have their doctoral studies supervised jointly by academics from an Australian University and a French University. If successful, the student will be awarded a joint doctoral degree by the two institutions, stating that the award was made as a consequence of a Cotutelle agreement with the partner institution. Cotutelle is possible in all French universities, under French national regulations, with any foreign country. Cotutelle is at present possible only in certain Australian universities, each university having its own regulations. Some universities have accepted the principle of Cotutelle with all foreign countries but other only with France. A Cotutelle PhD implies a project in cooperation between two institutions. In consequence, all grants relative to research projects are possible supports for the Cotutelle. All grants for post-graduate or PhD students can also be used. (Some restrictions on participation in the programme may apply to recipients of Australian Commonwealth Government funded scholarships). The Embassy of France offers each year a number of travel grants (up to A$ 2500 per grant) for Australian or French students registered in a cotutelle program. For this 2010 Cotutelle Call for proposals, the French Embassy will provide up to 10 grants-in aid of up to $2,500 per student towards international travel between France and Australia. Priority will be given to complete applications (with signed agreements) and to Australian students. For further information and application instructions, please visit: http://www.ambafrance-au.org/france_australie/spip.php?article3621	27 Nov 2010
