

THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE

AND

CSIRO HEALTH SCIENCES and NUTRITION

COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH GRANTS PROGRAM PRESENT:

THE 2006 BRAILSFORD ROBERTSON AWARD AND LECTURE PRESENTATION

The University of Adelaide and CSIRO Human Nutrition are jointly funding the 2006 Brailsford Robertson Award, to the value of $200,000 over two years, with funding to commence in 2007.

The purpose of the award is to encourage collaborative research in areas identified as strategic priorities by CSIRO (Obesity, Obesity-related diseases such as diabetes, cardiovascular disease and colorectal cancer, Novel carbohydrate-based foods and Attitudes to novel technologies) and The University of Adelaide (Healthy Development, Healthy Aging and Food).

The Brailsford Robertson Committee invites you to attend the

Brailsford Robertson Lecture Presentation and Award Announcement

Date: Tuesday, 5 December 2006

Time: 4.15 – 5.45 pm

Venue: Ira Raymond Room
(The Barr Smith Library)

4.15 – 5.00 pm - Drinks and Nibbles

The formalities will be preceded by drinks and nibbles

5.00 pm - Lecture Presentation

Professor Manny Noakes from CSIRO Human Nutrition will present the lecture on behalf of the recipients of the award for the period of 2005- 2006.

Award Announcement

Following the lecture, Committee Chair, Professor Neville Marsh, will also announce the winners of this year's Brailsford Robertson Award.

RSVP: Monday, 27 November 2006

Kate Jarrett (Research Branch)

Ph: 8303 3765 / Email: kate.jarrett@adelaide.edu.au.