Solvay Pharmaceuticals Influenza Research Grant - Call for proposals	Internal Deadline
The Solvay Pharmaceuticals Influenza Research Grant is an independent grant established to support the global advancement of influenza research. Early research on such vaccines has demonstrated that non-adjuvanted H5N1 vaccine formulations are poorly immunogenic and require high doses of antigen for an effective dose regimen. High-dosed pandemic vaccines offer no realistic solution due to serious production-associated constraints. Various adjuvanted vaccine formulations, with differing degrees of 'antigen sparing', have been developed in order to reduce the required antigenic content of pandemic vaccines. However, for many adjuvants used in vaccinology, there is little information on the mode of action to exert their adjuvanticity. The 2009 Solvay Pharmaceuticals Influenza Research Grant will consider either new or existing research projects working to better understand the mode of action of different classes of adjuvants. The successful applicant will receive an amount of €50,000 for 2009. For more information and an application form, please visit their	23 January 2009
