OF ADELAIDE

What is SIFE?

Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) is a worldwide organisation developed to aid the community through business. SIFE The University of Adelaide is a group of university students working together to implement charitable outreach projects and programs within the community and country. A chapter, or SIFE group, comprises of a number of students, a member(s) of university staff and an advisory group of business people, known as the advisory board, who come together to discover ways of improving people's lives.

The SIFE Experience?

SIFE empowers university students to make a difference today while realising the full potential they have to create a better world as the entrepreneurs and business leaders of tomorrow. Members develop sharpened leadership and business skills, but just as importantly, they form a deeper sense of commitment to the community and world around them - and their knowledge of just how far-reaching their influence as leaders can be. SIFE sets the stage for life-changing business leadership experiences that are equipping the new generation of leaders with knowledge and skills to develop more sustainable enterprises, stronger communities and a world with greater opportunities for everyone.

What are the benefits of my involvement with SIFE?

- Personal and professional growth: the opportunity to practice concepts and skills learned during your studies in a hands-on manner, increasing your value to future employers.
- The opportunity to network with students, academics and business executives from around the world.
- Fun: take this opportunity to meet new people, try new things and travel to new places.
- A chance to demonstrate what you are individually capable of achieving while working in a group.
- A practical opportunity to develop leadership, communication and teamwork skills.
- The satisfaction of knowing you made a positive difference in your community by educating others.
