WINE AND CHEESE SEMINAR

Wednesday 4 June 2008

4:00pm – 5:30pm

Centre for Learning and Professional Development

Level 2, Schulz Building West

The University of Adelaide

Aim: to promote an active community of educators interested in exploring situational learning, with a particular emphasis on online role-play and scenario-based learning. Seminars will continue to be run throughout 2008 to introduce as well as implement the concepts and skills and to keep the networks going.

SCoPE is also linked with the University of Wollongong's EnRoLE Project See <http://cedir.uow.edu.au/enrole/>

EnRoLE is funded by a Carrick grant and aims to build a strong community of teachers using online role-play, nurture new entrants to the field and double the number of role-plays in higher education over two years. The University of Adelaide is heading the SA cluster for this project.

PROGRAM

1. Welcome and Introductions
2. Summary of SCoPE inaugural activities in 2007
3. Link with EnRoLE Project
4. A short demonstration of voice tool technology which enhances learning pedagogy
5. Demonstration of the Dental Amalgam eSim, an online role-play developed by Judi Baron and recently implemented in the Middle East as part of her research into readiness for online learning

Please RSVP by Friday 30 May 2008 to:
