

Call for submissions

2nd Adelaide PhD Summer Institute in International Trade

February 15 and 16, 2018

Organized by the Centre for International Economic Studies at the Institute for International Trade

The Centre for International Economic Studies invites PhD students in the field of international trade (JEL-Classification F0 to F2) to present their work at the 2nd Adelaide PhD Summer Institute. The first summer institute took place in February 2017, and its objective is to provide PhD students in this field with a platform for discussing their ideas with both fellow PhD students and senior scholars. Each student will be given at least 45 minutes of presentation and discussion time. Students are not required to present an already completed paper or paper draft, but may also report on the progress of their research strategies. It is also an objective of the PhD Summer Institute that students receive feedback at an early stage of their PhD project, and consequently PhD students of all years are strongly encouraged to participate. Both theoretical and empirical research in international trade is welcome.

The PhD Summer Institute will be hosted by the Centre for International Economic Studies of the University of Adelaide. Participating senior researchers will include:

Professor Kym Anderson, University of Adelaide
Professor Christopher Findlay, University of Adelaide
Dr Benedikt Heid, University of Adelaide
Dr Laura Marquez-Ramos, University of Adelaide
Professor Martin Richardson, Australian National University
Professor Frank Stähler, University of Adelaide and University of Tübingen
Associate Professor Shandre Thangavelu, University of Adelaide

There is no registration fee, but we are also unable to offer any financial assistance to participants. We will provide recommendations for accommodation, but participants will be required to book all travel and accommodation independently.

Please submit your application for presentation before November 15, 2017 in pdf format to frank.staehler@adelaide.edu.au. Your application should include the title of your presentation, an outline of your research ideas and/or a paper draft. You may also attach a letter of support from your PhD supervisor. If you have any further questions, please e-mail Frank Stähler at frank.staehler@adelaide.edu.au.
