ABOUT THE APP

The EchidnaCSI App collects information about the echidnas in Australia. This will allow a better understanding of distribution and numbers of echidnas and how this changes over time. In addition the EchidnaCSI App will provide guidance on how to identify and send scat samples for molecular studies at the University of Adelaide.

The data and material collected will provide a better understanding about the biology of echidnas and inform conservation strategies. For more information, visit the EchidnaCSI citizen science webpage.

EchidnaCSI is managed by the University of Adelaide. All reference to “we” or “us” are references to the University of Adelaide.

TERMS

By using the EchidnaCSI App, you agree to these terms of use. If you do not agree, please do not use the EchidnaCSI App. These terms of use may change from time to time. Please revisit these terms of use from time to time to ensure you are familiar with the current terms.

You agree that you are participating and submitting material (photographs and text) using the EchidnaCSI App voluntarily and in good faith.

You retain ownership in all material you submit using the EchidnaCSI App. If you submit others’ material, you must make sure that you have the owner’s permission. If you are not an adult, please make sure you have permission from your parent or guardian.

You are responsible for all the material submitted using the EchidnaCSI App. You agree to make sure that the material you submit is as accurate as you can. Please do not upload any inappropriate content. Inappropriate content includes photographs that have been digitally altered and rude or obscene images or text. We reserve the right to remove any material submitted as we see fit.

All material uploaded will be made available through the EchidnaCSI website and other public data portals and used by any person including researchers and members of the public. You allow all users of the portal to freely access, copy and use any material you upload. If you supply your name, users of the material will be asked to attribute your material to you. For more information about use of portals and how your material may be used, please see the EchidnaCSI citizen science webpage.

By using the EchidnaCSI App (and by submitting photos and information) you agree to grant permission to the University of Adelaide to use, reproduce and communicate (in hardcopy or electronic format) any photographs and/or video recordings submitted to EchidnaCSI, for education, research (including publications) and promotional purposes (including but not limited to the University’s website and social media sites, promotional and marketing materials).

PRIVACY

You will need to provide an email address when entering information or pictures so we can keep you informed about the use of the information provided. You are not required to, but may provide other profile details. No other information identifying you will be made available.

We will collect the information you supply in your profile for our purposes including analysing quality of submissions. We will not sell or otherwise make available your personal information to any third parties unless required to do so by law, law enforcement agencies or authorised government direction.

For more information, please see the University of Adelaide’s privacy policy.

If you would like to amend your personal details or wish to view the information we hold, please contact us at echidnacsi@adelaide.edu.au or by writing to EchidnaCSI, room 2.14, School of Biological Sciences, University of Adelaide, South Australia 5005.

DISCLAIMER

We will do our best to ensure that the EchidnaCSI App is working and kept updated and that you are able to submit your material to the EchidnaCSI website. However, we do not promise that it will work all the time or that we will maintain the EchidnaCSI App indefinitely.

We are not liable for any loss or damages (including personal injury, death or indirect, consequential or monetary damages) arising from the use of or the inability to use the EchidnaCSI App or the EchidnaCSI website at any time, the content of the website portal supplied by members of the public or from any event occurring as a result of use of the EchidnaCSI App.
