

Sustainability in Food Value Chains – Australian and European Perspectives

The Centre for Global Food and Resources (GFAR) at the University of Adelaide is delighted to jointly host a workshop with Australasian Agriculture and Resource Economics Society (AARES) followed by a light lunch in Adelaide on Friday September 29, 2017. The workshop will be facilitated by Prof. Garry Griffith, University of New England.

Time – 9 am to 12 pm

Venue – Nexus 10, Level 7, Room 7.04

Panel Members:

University of New England (Armidale, New South Wales)

Professor Derek Baker - 'Supply chain synergies: a look at comparative advantage across supply chain stages'

Dr Emilio Morales - 'Animal welfare and livestock production in Australia'

Rheinische-Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität (Bonn University, Germany)

Professor Monika Hartmann, Chair of Agricultural and Food Market Research - 'European consumers' knowledge, perception and use of food quality labels: A cross country study'

Dr Johannes Simons - 'Fostering sustainability in saturated food markets – the case of Germany'

Centre for Global Food & Resources, University of Adelaide

Professor Wendy Umberger, Executive Director - 'Australian consumers and perception of sustainable foods'

Thomas Cosentino - 'Fair Fish – South Australia's Community Supported Fishery'

Elizabeth Gunner - 'Brand development and innovation – value chain sustainability for Richard Gunner's Fine Meats'

To register see details: <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/sustainability-in-food-value-chains-australian-and-european-perspectives-tickets-37712531196>

Places are strictly limited

Registration closes 25 September 2017