Application to Transfer Candidature from PhD to Masters

Division of Research and Innovation

Note. In compliance with the RTP guidelines, it is not possible to make retrospective changes to candidature details across the reporting dates of 30 June and 31 December.

IMPORTANT

Transferring from a PhD to a Masters Program

A PhD student, for various academic or personal reasons, may wish to transfer to a Masters program during this PhD candidature. An application should be made on this form well before the end of the second year, and well in advance of the reporting dates of 30 June and 31 December, to avoid any complications that may arise regarding the student's RTP place and other fee liabilities.

Career and Research Skills Training (CaRST)

It is important to be aware that it is compulsory for all students who enrol or transfer into a Masters from 2017, to complete 60 hours of CaRST activities prior to thesis submission.
Any CaRST activities previously completed during the Doctor of Philosophy can be counted towards the total.

Re-addressing some Research Related Issues

In the process of transferring from a PhD to Masters by Research candidature if your research will change particularly in relation to financial implications, access to restricted data and/or materials, ethics and safety clearance, authorship and/or intellectual property issues please also complete the attached proforma.

International Students
