There are no extension provisions.

The duration of the scholarship will be reduced by any:

- (ii) Suspension of the award without intermission of the candidature.

5.1 Continuation

Scholarships are renewable annually, subject to satisfactory progress determined by the outcome of the Annual Review and/or other formal progress reviews undertaken throughout the year.

5.2 Conversion of Award

The university may approve conversion of an award for a Research Masters study to a scholarship leading to a PhD. Similarly, an award for PhD studies can be converted to a Research Masters as long as the conversion takes place within the first two years of candidature. A student may be required to reimburse the University for any payments received in excess of the two year limit. The maximum duration of a converted award becomes that for the new candidature, either a maximum of two years for a Research Masters or three and a half years for a PhD.

A student completing a Research Masters degree may continue the award for PhD studies provided there is no interval between Masters and PhD candidature, or that such an interval is covered by suspension of the award. Because a scholarship normally expires on completion of a degree, the student must ensure that the progression to the PhD or suspension of the award is arranged before the Research Masters studies are completed. Note that the maximum period of the award for a student progressing from Research Masters to PhD study is three and a half years from the date the student took up the award as a Research Masters student.

RTP Scholarship holders may undertake a Doctorate by Research at a different university from the Masters degree, provided the transfer of the award is arranged between the universities before the Masters studies are completed. See Section 12 Transfer of Award.

5.3 Deferral

An award must usually be taken up in the intake for which it was awarded and may not normally be deferred (see Section 4 Commencement). Application for periods of leave with the express purpose of deferring the commencement date of the award will not be approved unless exceptional circumstances exist and permission is granted by the Adelaide Graduate Research School. Where permission has been granted, the return from leave date must fall within the same commencement period (refer to Section 4 Commencement and Section 5 Period of Support) and may not extend into a subsequent period.

6. LEAVE ENTITLEMENTS (entitlements are adjusted accordingly for half-time students)

Leave of absence will not be permitted during the final 14 days of the scholarship.

Domestic students must apply to the Adelaide Graduate Research School for leave of absence (excluding Recreation Leave) at least 15 working days in advance.

When taking any periods of sick leave (paid or unpaid) or parental leave, official medical certificates stating specified dates must be provided.

Application for leave forms can be downloaded from <https://www.adelaide.edu.au/graduate-research/current-students/forms#managing-your-candidature>

International students are required to lodge an application for recreation leave at least 15 working days in advance.

- (iii) For medically substantiated periods of illness lasting longer than 10 working days, candidates may receive up to a total of 60 working days paid sick leave that is additional to the normal duration of the award. This leave will only be utilised once all accruable sick leave within tenure has been exhausted.
- (iv) Unpaid Sick Leave – periods of unpaid sick leave longer than 60 working days may be accessed through leave of absence provisions. Carer's leave related to the primary care of a family member may be applied for under the allocation of sick leave, and requires equivalent supporting documentation.

6.4 Leave Without Pay

Note: requests for further periods beyond 24 months will not be considered.
- (iii) The scholarship will be suspended during periods of Leave without Pay.

- (ii) Scholarship students will continue to receive their regular scholarship payments throughout the period of jury service, however any juror fees received, other than the travel and incidental allowance must be reimbursed to the University.
- (iii) After the period of jury service is complete, scholarship students are required to submit a leave of absence form claiming leave for the number of days on which they were required to participate in a trial.
- (iv) Candidature and scholarship expiry dates will be adjusted by the total number of days of jury service undertaken plus 5 days; the 5 days being an allowance for the daily appearance for duty. The total period being up to a maximum of four weeks.

6.6 Return from Leave of Absence

Students granted leave of absence are required, on the prescribed form, to inform the Adelaide Graduate Research School of resumption of candidature within fourteen days of the approved date of return. Failure to do so may result in termination of scholarship and/or candidature.
