Fraud Control

Overview

The course introduces the concept of fraud in the context of the University workplace and outlines what University staff should do if fraudulent behaviour is suspected.

Learning Outcomes

- An understanding of the concept of fraud
- An understanding of types of fraudulent behaviour in the workplace
- An ability to articulate the University's approach to fraud
- An understanding of your rights and obligations as a University employee where fraud is or could be involved
- An ability to identify the early signs of potential fraudulent activity
- An understanding of what you should do should you suspect fraudulent activity is occurring