MGW3542 Sustainable Tourism Destinations

In MGW3542 Sustainable Tourism destinations, students will be completing a location-based authentic-experiential assessment programme. This programme is the completion of a Meta task, which will be completed through three assessment items (all assignments combined will achieve the overall Meta task).

Assessment Meta-Task
- Recommend a change to the destination that will enhance its sustainable ethical development and positive impacts

Assessment Items
1. (i) Present a sustainable and ethical vision; (ii) Profile the destination’s current and expected future using tourism models; and (iii) Propose relevant tourism sustainability gaps within this framework
2. (i) Propose a relevant tourism opportunity to fill a sustainability gap at the destination; (ii) Evaluate the proposed opportunity for the specific destination
3. Make recommendations for a change to the destination that will enhance its sustainable ethical development and positive impacts

Assignment 1:
Sustainable and Ethical Vision, Destination Profile and Sustainability Gaps

Suggested word limit: 2,000 words

Marks available: 20%

Presentation requirements: Use professional format

Due Date: Monday, 9am Week 4

Instructions to students:
(i) Present a sustainable and ethical vision of tourism
   - Using a range of credible and relevant sources present your group’s sustainable and ethical tourism principles. From these principles, explicitly derive a sustainable and ethical vision for tourism. It is crucial that you have a well-founded and considered set of sustainable and ethical principles. Additionally, from these principles, create an online checklist (survey) a business manager could complete to assess their alignment with the sustainable and ethical tourism principles and vision.

(ii) Profile the destination’s current and expected future using tourism models
   - Profile the assigned destination’s tourism, current and probable future. Use Butler’s (1980) Tourist Area Cycle of Evolution, Plog’s (2001) Typology of Tourists, and Doxey’s (1975) Irritation Index models to provide an indicative picture. Use these, with other appropriate studies, to identify probable future for the destination, consequences of the current and probable future (identify current spot of the destination in models, and use these to predict the future).

(iii) Propose relevant tourism sustainability gaps within this framework
   - Finally, compare the destination’s probable future with sustainability vision and principles to recommend sustainability gaps needing to be filled.

Keep the marking rubric front-of-mind when preparing and obtaining reviews on your assignment. A key element of the task is to obtain peer feedback (from students in MGW3542) on components of assignment using the marking rubric (does not need to be all facets). Obtain feedback at least three times. Keep up-to-date with the assignment, and obtain feedback regularly. Attach the peer feedback form to the end of the assignment (over page).

Please review the marking rubric for mark allocations, noting that marks are allocated to appropriate referencing and presentation

THIS IS A WHOLE OF CLASS ASSESSMENT ITEM. The grade will be determined by the submitted assignment’s evidence in relation to the marking rubric. Agreement will be made in the Week 1 lecture on how marks will be distributed to individual students. It is suggested that criteria be agreed that reinforces positive, participative and constructive behaviours. For example:
- Attendance at all classes
- Contribution of analysed credible and relevant reading
• Twice-weekly contribution to the assignment
• Participated as a member of a feedback team…

EXCLUDING TEAM MEMBERS: Generally, there are two reasons for excluding someone from the team, first, non-contact, and second, non-contribution. To exclude someone from the team for non-contact, I need three things:
   1) Evidenced attempt to contact and include the team member
   2) After reasonable time to respond to the first attempt, a second attempt to contact and supportively include the team member.
   3) After another reasonable time to respond to the second attempt, a third attempt to contact and supportively include the team member, and continued non-response.

Evidence, in this context, would be a posting in the team’s discussion list. A reasonable time, in this context, would be three days.

If, after team members have made successful contact, then a team member could still be excluded for not making agreed contributions. Not making agreed contributions, could be, for example, a breach of your team’s rules (such as not attending classes), could be not completing tasks in the agreed timeframe, and could be not attending team meetings. In each of these cases, I would need to see:
   1) Documented agreed contributions, and that the team members actually agreed to it
   2) A documented non-contribution
   3) A documented and supportive attempt to address the non-contribution, and
   4) A documented and continued non-contribution

For each of these, the documentation would be the team meeting minutes, posted in the team’s MUSO discussion list after each meeting.

In both of these cases – non-contact and non-contribution – there is an initial emphasis on the team making all necessary attempts to solve the issue by first providing teammates with support, and to address the issue in the team. If, after multiple attempts to support teammates, without effect, then please contact me as soon as possible. My first effort will be to enhance the cohesiveness of the team. If this does not appear possible, then I will exclude the team member from the team, and they will receive a zero (0) for this assignment. If they stay in the team, they will receive the same grade as everyone else in the team.

Overall, the emphasis is on team support of teammates, documenting and making explicit expectations, and then following through on expectations.

Submitting assignment: Submit the Sustainable and Ethical Vision, Destination Profile and Sustainability Gaps through the MUSO assignment link. Attach your completed coversheet at the END of the submitted assignment.

Before submitting work please complete the following checklist (NOTE there are mark deductions for not complying with the checklist requirements = 10% per each criterion):
   ☐ There are no spelling mistakes in my report (also check word choice)
   ☐ There are no grammatical mistakes in my report
   ☐ All referencing in my report is complete and appropriate
   ☐ Using the assignment’s marking rubric, I have self-assessed the assignment
   ☐ I have read and completed the report Cover Sheet, and submitted it

Finally, make sure the correct report is being submitted (i.e. not a draft copy), and that the report has been submitted.

The report must be submitted through MUSO (electronically) by 9.00am on the due date.

Estimated return date: Week 5

Assignments will be provided back with a grade, completed rubric and comments. Marks will not be provided.

Thematic Referencing: To be the Best

To get better marks you should attempt to use thematic referencing. Thematic referencing requires timely preparation and targeted note taking. For efficient thematic referencing, start with analysing your assessment item – use the assignment instructions AND the marking rubric to analyse the assignment. What will the sections be, and what do you need to discuss in each section. Check your understanding with your tutor, lecturer or Learning Skills Adviser. Note the sections and discussion needs in a table, down the left side (in order). For example, in an essay for small business manager training needs:

<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>

Now, start your reading. Start with the textbook and directed readings. Keeping the sections and discussion points in mind, when you come across something that is relevant, in your own words, note the theme of what the author wrote. Write this theme in the table, and note the page number you got the information from. It may be that the identified theme actually comes from two pages of the chapter, then note the range of pages. As you get more experienced, your themes will come from larger ranges of pages. The pages numbers help if you need further clarification of the noted theme – you know where to go back and look.

As the notes are already in your own words, you have a greater chance of avoiding plagiarism (as long as you still acknowledge the sources). Now the idea for thematic referencing is to identify the themes across the rows, and present these, again in your own words. When a theme emerges, make sure you also note the sources where the theme emerged. For example:

*Small business managers need training (Jones & Keel, 1989; Foctor, 1998; Smith, 2010), though it is noted that they do not have time to undertake off-the-job opportunities (Peebles, 2001). Nonetheless, whilst some note that small business training needs vary (Wang, 1985); a theme of common training needs is emerging (Zhang & Wei, 2007). The most important training need for small business managers has been identified as human resource management (Janns, 2001; Jones & Wang, 2008). In this context, this essay will discuss the human resource training opportunities for small business managers. ...

As you complete your readings, hopefully some sources will be useful for a number of sections, and will have multiple notes down each column. You should also see that the left column will present words to enter into your search databases. Finally, the table, during preparation will also indicate where you need further resources to support your work – where there are a large number of gaps in a row, this indicates that you may need further sources.

Once your assignment is completed (final draft), it is a great to get someone else to proof read your assignment. Importantly, from the proof reading make the needed changes.
