Future confidence. Global opportunity.

Our world is changing fast. Many of the jobs our current generation will perform in the future do not yet exist. But the ideal preparation for them does. Informed by cutting-edge research and ongoing industry collaboration, a University of Adelaide education gives students the flexibility to adapt and thrive. Wherever their careers take them, they’ll be ready.

And rest assured, their options will be many. The University of Adelaide is South Australia’s global university—consistently holding the highest world ranking and collaborating with top-performing businesses and educational institutions across multiple continents. This opens doors for our graduates virtually everywhere.

A wealth of professional opportunity, however, is just one of the rewards we offer. University of Adelaide students also benefit from the deep inspiration that can only come from a culture of sustained excellence. Our research, and that of our alumni, has enhanced life for people and planet for well over 100 years, and played a role in many of the world’s great advances. Among these are the discoveries of penicillin, x-ray crystallography and gravitational waves.

Equally importantly, we have a proud history of championing equality. Adelaide was the first university in Australia—and only the second in the world—to admit women to academic courses. We’ve educated two Indigenous Australian Rhodes Scholars and we count among our alumni Australia’s first female prime minister and Supreme Court judge.

There’s no better place for students to prepare for their futures.

WHY ARTS?

AN ARTS DEGREE GIVES STUDENTS THE SKILL SET AND QUALIFICATION FOR A DIVERSE AND REWARDING CAREER THAT EXTENDS WELL BEYOND THEIR FIRST JOB.

Study Overseas and Exchange opportunities

The University of Adelaide has exchange links with over 100 institutions around the world, which gives our students the opportunity to study overseas and have it count towards their degree. Students could undertake a short study tour of just a few weeks, complete a specific program over a month or two, or soak up the culture for a semester or full academic year.

Arts internship

Employers want graduates with industry-based experience. Recognising this, the Faculty of Arts offers students internships that link the knowledge they gain at university with its practical application in the workplace. Examples of internship hosts include:

- Australian Dance Theatre
- Migration Museum
- Oxfam Australia
- Tandanya National Aboriginal Cultural Institute

AREAS WE TEACH IN THE FACULTY OF ARTS INCLUDE:

Anthropology (SATAC code 334241)
Students study society and culture in all its variety. Anthropology helps us understand much of what it is to be human: how and why we think, feel and act differently; and what draws us to participate and identify in music, sport and religion.

Art History and Visual Culture (SATAC code 334251)
Students explore the making, meaning, reception and consumption of artistic images and objects, and develop visual literacy in the areas of analysis, critical thinking and persuasive communication.

Australian Studies (SATAC code 334271)
Students explore Australia’s past, present and future, through topics such as culture, diversity, Indigenous experience and the environment. They investigate complex matters of social justice, gender and human rights.

Classics (SATAC code 334291)
Considered the birth of civilisation, ancient Greece and Rome have left potent legacies. Studying their societies through Classics, students explore fascinating aspects of their cultures, religion, art, literature, philosophy and politics.

Creative Writing (SATAC code 334301)
In this practical introduction to the discipline, students learn how to begin and develop a sustained and reflective writing practice. The production-focused nature of this major helps them become more proficient and versatile writers.

Criminology (SATAC code 334311)
Students study crime and deviance as a social phenomenon. Criminology aims to understand why people commit crimes, our social responses to it, and methods of crime prevention.

Cultural Studies (SATAC code 334321)
Students explore the many ways we understand ourselves and others—through film, social media, literature and music, fashion and objects, Indigenous cultures and history, gender and sport.

Digital Humanities (SATAC code 334331)
The Digital Revolution has only just begun—today’s young people will experience more change in their lifetimes than any previous generation. Students delve deeply into the humanities and social sciences to prepare for the future workplace.

Economics (SATAC code 334341)
Economics investigates human behaviour and its material consequences. Students learn how economies work in the context of global forces and scarce resources, and how governments deal with issues such as unemployment, trade and taxation.

Education (SATAC code 334351)
Ideal for students interested in education but not necessarily teaching, this major explores how people learn. Students develop strong foundational knowledge and skills they can apply in a wide range of educational and non-educational roles.

English (SATAC code 334361)
Students analyse the ways in which literature and film shape our understanding of ourselves and our social contexts. They learn, think and write critically about the ways these cultural products reflect and influence our world.

Film Studies (SATAC code 334901)
Students explore a range of theoretical, historical and critical approaches to film. They discuss the medium’s origins, techniques, genres and narrative styles; aspects of stardom; the influence of audience; and the global film industry.

Gender Studies (SATAC code 334381)
Students investigate how society is structured around gender and other social identities, such as class, age, race and ethnicity, and how this influences people’s life experiences and outcomes.

Geography, Environment and Population (SATAC code 334391)
Students analyse environmental processes and human interactions within them. They consider significant issues such as: how the world can cope with an expanding population; what future cities should be like; and the potential impact of climate change.

History (SATAC code 334411)
Students delve into our human past in all its diversity. They explore the global impact of everything from war, migration, colonialism and slavery, to commodity production, political movements, film, religion and the law.

History and Philosophy of Sciences (minor only)
Without science and its discoveries, modern life would be unrecognisable. History and philosophy of science asks: how does science work, and how did it come to be the way it is now? Investigate how scientific knowledge is generated, develop your scientific literacy, and apply your understanding to practical issues arising when science is set in a human context.

Indigenous Knowledges and Society (SATAC code 334421)
Students explore multiple issues of concern to Indigenous peoples, including culture, language, the environment, history and politics. Deepen your understanding of First Nation knowledge systems’ significance and value in a changing world.

International Business* **
Students investigate the complex and dynamic forces impacting the global economy, with a special focus on international management and marketing.

---

FIT UNI INTO LIFE

This diary snapshot is only one example of how students may choose to schedule their university study and life. Attendance at university is less structured than time spent at high school. The hours spent on campus in lectures, tutorials, practicals or in the field—known as ‘contact hours’—depend on the degree enrolled in, study mode selected (internal, external, online or flexible learning) and course choices.
International Development (SATAC code 334441)

Students examine the key aspects of poverty reduction and sustainable development, exploring: economic growth determinants; environmental issues; financial aid’s effectiveness; gender-development links; civil war’s causes; and more.

Languages

Students gain written and verbal language skills, and explore their chosen language’s rich cultural heritage.

Linguistics (SATAC code 334471)

Linguistics is the study of human language—its nature, origins and uses. Students examine language’s role in human communication, how it’s learned and how it changes over time.

Management*

Students learn how to administer an organisation’s resources efficiently and effectively. They develop the skills to manage change in work structures and processes, product technologies, employment relations and organisational culture.

Marketing*

Students gain a grounding in marketing theory; learn how to prepare marketing reports and plans; undertake a diagnostic case study; analyse advertisements in a variety of media; and apply market research to solve a real business problem.

Mathematical Sciences (SATAC code 334481)

Students build a broad foundation in mathematics and statistics before specialising in applied maths, pure maths or statistics. They learn to solve problems by collecting, analysing and modelling data.

Media (SATAC code 334491)

Students develop a sound theoretical understanding of industry practices, with a focus on digital and interactive media. They cultivate practical skills in research and analysis, media writing, journalism and media technology use.

Music (SATAC code 334511)

Investigate music from different genres around the world in its social and performance contexts. Students learn about the history of music analysis, with a focus on music research skills.

Music Education (minor only)

Students study the essential principles and techniques underlying music education in the 21st century. They develop core music teaching skills and start building their own folio of sequential learning plans.

Philosophy (SATAC code 334521)

What is reality? What is knowledge? Should euthanasia be permitted? Philosophy students learn to use debate, reasoning and critical thinking to better understand the world, our place in it, and the nature of the human mind.

Politics and International Relations (SATAC code 334531)

Students explore political decision-making, justice and democracy. They learn about Australian politics and policy, other countries’ politics—and the relations between them—and debate key issues in domestic and international governance.

Psychology (SATAC code 334541)

Psychology is the scientific study and development of useful ways to understand people’s thoughts and behaviours. Students study the human mind and how it works, and apply their understanding to solve practical problems.

Sociology (SATAC code 334551)

Sociology explores the experience of everyday life, how society is organised and the social problems that arise. Sociologists think critically and imaginatively about a wide range of social issues, and challenge the assumptions underlying them.

* Must be taken in addition to a first Faculty of Arts major chosen from those listed.

LIFE EXPERIENCE THROUGH STUDY OVERSEAS

www.adelaide.edu.au/study-overseas

All students will have the opportunity to study overseas through a range of programs, including student exchange, study tours and summer and winter schools. There are many exciting opportunities in Europe, Asia, the Americas and Africa.

ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDERS

www.adelaide.edu.au/wirltu-yarlu

The University of Adelaide values diversity where the rich cultures of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders are taught, supported and celebrated. Wirltu Yarlu provide a range of services, schemes and preparation programs that are designed to support your desire to gain educational outcomes. Wirltu Yarlu is a place where students can soar to new heights.

ADVANCED BACHELORS

Our award-winning team maintains close relationships with a wide range of local, national and international employers, ensuring our industry knowledge is second to none. These partnerships keep us fully informed of current and emerging opportunities for students seeking professional experience, and for graduates seeking employment. They also ensure we’re keenly aware of what graduate employers are looking for.

To pass on this awareness to students, we hold a major Careers Expo every year and host numerous events where employers visit our North Terrace campus, network with students and promote career pathways within their organisations.

Our industry mentoring program also provides opportunities for students to meet and gain insight from alumni, managers and leaders at various stages in their career lifecycles. All employers value industry-related work experience, and being able to draw on these experiences is a great way for students to provide evidence of the skills, knowledge and abilities they’ve developed.

Through our Careers Service, students can access advice—both individually and through small-group workshops—on how to: source opportunities; create outstanding applications and resumes; prepare for interviews; make the most of opportunities they’re offered; and articulate their experiences’ benefits to employers.

We also operate an online CareerHub, which hosts numerous resources to help students connect with industry and apply for work, and lists opportunities for work experience, graduate jobs and industry-related part-time and volunteer work.

ARTS
Double and concurrent degrees

Students with a strong interest in more than one area can apply for a double degree, which can usually be completed in four years. Most of our degrees can be teamed with Law.

Students can combine degrees through concurrent study—enrol in the first degree, and then apply for the second degree at the end of semester one or first year. Students should discuss enrolment with the Faculty of Arts to help select the right courses to enrol in.

Guaranteed entry 70

Many University of Adelaide degrees now have a pre-set entry score, known as ‘guaranteed entry’, as well as a cut-off that varies each year.

For guaranteed entry* into our arts degrees, you must meet any subject prerequisites and achieve a 70 selection rank or above (including adjustment factors if eligible).

It’s that straightforward. But if you think you might score under 70 don’t stress—there are still opportunities to study arts at Adelaide.

For more details, visit adelaide.edu.au and search guaranteed entry.

* There are some exceptions. Check the University website for full details.

Knowledge-hungry?
A Bachelor of Arts lets you dive into higher learning with flexibility and freedom. We support your interests in the broad and vital study of history, society, culture and creativity.

The University of Adelaide is highest ranked for Arts in South Australia. From Classics to Criminology, Gender Studies to Geography—you can choose from the greatest number of study areas in the state.

What will you do?
Based on North Terrace, you’ll study in the centre of Adelaide’s cultural hub, surrounded by iconic establishments and festivals. You will:

• experience a modern learning program taught with a global perspective
• learn from deeply passionate and knowledgeable academics
• build a suite of skills in critical thinking, communication, and research
• form strong networks with your peers and teachers
• develop positive connections in government, business and the community sector through internships
• gain international experience through optional exchanges or study tours.

You’ll focus your interests in any of the following areas:

• Anthropology (SATAC code 334241)
• Art History and Visual Culture (SATAC code 334251)
• Australian Studies (SATAC code 334271)
• Chinese Studies (SATAC code 334281)
• Classics (SATAC code 334291)

Where could it take you?
You could become a leader in government, media or Adelaide’s growing arts community. You might be a voice for those who’ve been mistreated in the workforce. Perhaps you’ll conduct life-changing research into mental health and wellbeing. With your strong understanding of human society, you’ll be ready to shape your place within it.

Industry placement
Maintain a high GPA and you’ll have the opportunity in third-year to take part in an internship with an organisation in the arts, media, government or environment. This includes the South Australian Parliament and a range of public- and business-sector agencies. You’ll use the knowledge from your university study in a practical work environment, build valuable networks and gain experience that counts towards your degree and prepares you for your future career.

* These majors cannot be taken as a first major.
^ Further study is required to become a qualified psychologist.

Due to the rigour and specialisation of the Bachelor of Arts (Advanced), this degree isn’t suited to being studied concurrently or as part of a double degree. Double counting of units between this and other degrees is not permitted.

Take yourself further
Curious about a wide range of ideas and issues? High-achieving? Articulate? The Bachelor of Arts (Advanced) is a distinctive degree for inquisitive students who want to excel.

What will you do?
As a member of a small but distinctive community within the wider University, you’ll work to take your knowledge and skills to a higher level. You will:

• enrol in Level 2 courses from first-year
• partner with an individual academic mentor who’ll support and encourage your intellectual development
• take a set of courses specifically designed for high-achieving students
• research and write a major independent research project on a topic of your choice
• attend exclusive events such as guest presentations, workshops, seminars, industry talks and social gatherings
• have significant input into your study program’s design and running.

You’ll focus your abilities in any of the following areas:

Craft a more interesting world

Creative artists are performers, designers, writers, animators, curators and directors. They keep the world of art and culture spinning. They make people think, laugh and feel. Studying creative arts means practising new ways of making while learning from those who’ve inspired and entertained throughout history.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Creative Arts develops individual creativity and knowledge. You will:

- choose from production courses like creative writing, music and media techniques
- study theory in your areas of interest, from philosophy and ethics to art history and visual culture
- gain valuable work experience within the creative arts industry
- attend masterclasses with visiting international academics
- go behind the scenes of a major arts festival through our partnership with the Adelaide Festival
- network with leaders and artists at the field’s cutting edge.

You can also pursue your creative interests overseas with optional exchanges and study tours.

Where could it take you?

Creative Arts graduates follow and fashion all sorts of exciting career pathways. You could exhibit your work in national galleries, or spotlight new creative talent. You might publish fiction, biographies or reviews for film festivals. Perhaps you’ll nurture creativity in young people through music programs.

Industry placement

All Bachelor of Creative Arts students have the opportunity to take part in a creative arts industry placement through the elective course Creative Arts Internship. This path is highly recommended if you’d like to enter the industry directly after completing your degree.

The placement allows you to gain meaningful work experience by contributing to a host-organisation project. You’ll be given the opportunity to negotiate your own placement with an organisation of your choice, after discussion with the Convenor of Creative Arts Internships.

PREREQUISITES

- Pathway 1: Completion of SACE or equivalent with Selection rank of 55
- Pathway 2: Enrolment in, or graduation from, undergraduate or postgraduate degree at the University of Adelaide or another recognised tertiary institution

Add the arts to your resume

You don’t have to sacrifice your interest in the arts. At the University of Adelaide, we support broad learning and insight across fields. With our diploma, you can pursue an arts major while completing an undergraduate degree outside the arts realm.

The diploma is also a pathway into university for students struggling to meet entry requirements on completion of Year 12. It’s a great opportunity to see if pursuing arts at uni is for you, with the possibility of transferring into a bachelor program once you have some study under your belt.

What will you do?

Our Diploma in Arts is equal to a full major (24 units). If you’re enrolled in another undergraduate degree, this generally adds a year to your time at university.

The diploma offers all the arts majors listed in the Bachelor of Arts entry, other than: language studies, Mathematical Sciences and Psychology. Unlike in the Bachelor of Arts, a major in Liberal Arts is available through the diploma.

Where could it take you?

If you’ve already finished a bachelor degree, the Diploma in Arts can complement your studies in a range of ways.

You might need to ‘upskill’ for professional development purposes (e.g. secondary school teachers). You might want to do an honours year or further postgraduate study in this new field. Perhaps you’re just interested in having a unique perspective and greater employability.

Why combine Arts with Economics?

Arts offers great insights into history and culture. Economics throws light on our commercial realm’s complexities and examines the ‘big picture’. Both are equally concerned with human behaviour. The two come together seamlessly in a wide range of rewarding and well-paid careers servicing local and global communities. With an integrated understanding of the world, you’ll be uniquely prepared to find your place in it.

What will you do?

• Explore economic laws and theories at all levels.
• Choose from South Australia’s widest range of arts majors.
• Build skills in mathematics, statistics and data analysis.
• Master creative problem-solving, decision-making and communication.

LANGUAGES

Be immersed in another culture

University of Adelaide language degrees provide a deeply rewarding experience, simultaneously developing your proficiency in one or more languages, and enhancing your knowledge of the cultures from which they originate.

All languages offer different learning streams, catering equally for students who’ve studied the language to Year 12 level (or equivalent) and those starting from scratch.

Areas of specialisation

The majors available to languages students include:
• Chinese Studies
• French Studies
• German Studies
• Indonesian Studies
• Italian Studies
• Japanese Studies
• Modern Greek Studies
• Spanish Studies.

You also have the option of studying a minor in Linguistics.

Career readiness

A great asset in its own right, the ability to communicate in another language is highly valuable in a wide range of occupations and industries, and a useful addition to other professional interests. Graduates’ likely career opportunities include:
• interpreter/translator
• linguist
• public servant
• foreign affairs
• government officer
• tutor
• humanitarian/aid worker.

“My degree qualifies me to read, write and speak three languages other than English and I believe that this opens up a multiplicity of opportunities. I know that future employers will appreciate the value of the skills that my degree has given me, as well as the institution that it has come from.”

Translate knowledge and culture
Do you have a passion for languages? Are you fascinated by their complexity and deep entwinement with culture? Do you want to travel and connect in richer ways? In a changing world, the study of languages has never been more relevant.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Languages is interactive and immersive. Whether you’ve studied a language to Year 12 level (or equivalent) or are just setting out on your language journey, we offer different streams to cater to your depth of knowledge. You will:
• become proficient in one or more languages
• enhance your knowledge of the cultures they originate from
• heighten your awareness of language systems
• understand language’s role in society
• build a greater appreciation of cultural diversity.

Our majors are:
• Chinese Studies
• French Studies
• German Studies
• Indonesian Studies
• Italian Studies
• Japanese Studies
• Modern Greek Studies
• Spanish Studies.
You can also minor in Linguistics.

Where could it take you?
Language graduates have the upper hand in all sorts of exciting careers. You could find work as a foreign service officer in embassies, resolving international conflicts. You might translate for politicians or celebrities. You could become a professional linguist or help migrants access support.

Industry placement
Maintain a high GPA and you’ll have the opportunity in third-year to take part in an internship with an organisation in the arts, media, government or environment. This includes the South Australian Parliament and a range of public- and business-sector agencies.

Our majors are:
• Chinese Studies
• French Studies
• German Studies
• Indonesian Studies
• Italian Studies
• Japanese Studies
• Modern Greek Studies
• Spanish Studies.
You can also minor in Linguistics.

DIPLOMA IN LANGUAGES

SATAC CODE 316171
DURATION 1 year full-time
CAMPUS North Terrace

PREREQUISITES
Enrolment in, or graduation from, an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at the University of Adelaide or another recognised tertiary institution.

Elevate your skill set
Our Diploma in Languages is set up so you can study a language alongside your primary degree. The language courses are sequential—each course builds on the knowledge gained in the previous one—so your language studies spread across three years. You’ll gain an additional qualification and add a language to your résumé.

Our diploma is open to domestic students from other universities. We also welcome Australian or New Zealand citizens—or permanent Australian visa holders—who’ve already completed an undergraduate degree.*

What will you do?
We offer the following languages at both beginner and advanced levels:
• Chinese Studies
• French Studies
• German Studies
• Indonesian Studies
• Italian Studies
• Japanese Studies
• Modern Greek Studies
• Spanish Studies.

Note: it’s not possible to study Indonesian Studies, Italian Studies or Modern Greek Studies as part of a Diploma in Languages on its own. These languages (taught by Flinders University staff at our North Terrace campus) are only available if you’re studying a University of Adelaide degree at the same time. They’re not open to graduates or students from other universities.

Where could it take you?
Learning another language opens many doors in a changing world. From social work to international business, a Diploma in Languages provides greater insight and a competitive edge.

* Unfortunately, international students can’t add on a Diploma in Languages as they can only have a place in one degree.
UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE LANGUAGE DEGREES DEVELOP STUDENTS’ PROFICIENCY IN ONE OR MORE LANGUAGES, AND ENHANCE THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF THE CULTURES FROM WHICH THEY ORIGINATE.
MEDIA
Design a vibrant career in the media industry

The University of Adelaide’s media degrees are strongly aligned to industry. All have been developed under the guidance of an advisory board consisting of industry professionals from the major television and radio networks, as well as print, online, marketing and advertising outlets, and the visual effects and games industries.

Through industry-focused teaching, the Bachelor of Media equips you with the necessary skills to engage with all forms of media in the digital age: from web, TV and mobile media, to radio, film and print. Importantly, you’ll develop skills and knowledge for the expanding employment areas of interactive TV, webcasting and video streaming, CGI and gaming, e-learning, online news, media operations and cybersecurity.

We offer specialist degrees in:
- Film Studies
- Immersive Media
- Journalism
- Marketing
- Photographic Imaging*
- Popular Music
- Social Media and Digital Promotion
- Sonic Arts
- Story Production
- Visual Design.

Combining high-level production, critical thinking and research skills, the Bachelor of Media produces graduates ideally placed to pursue rewarding careers in the highly diverse media industries, both in Australia and overseas. To maximise your employability, consider pairing Media with Law, Arts, Computer Sciences, Criminology, International Relations, or Sociology.

Completion of one of a number of TAFE programs prior to studying at the University of Adelaide in a media degree will allow you to apply for credit towards, or direct entry into, the Bachelor of Media.

Please note: media majors are not available in double degrees.

Media internships

You can choose to undertake an internship with a professional media organisation of your choice and gain crucial workplace experience. These placements are a collaborative venture between the University and various media organisations in the community. This internship is open to Bachelor of Media students only.

For more information, visit: arts.adelaide.edu.au/media/careers/mit

* The Photographic Imaging specialisation is studied in collaboration with the TafeSA Centre for Creative Industries.

Thrive in today’s media culture

Media is everywhere: TV, radio, movies, magazines, video games, social networks. It’s all the forms of mass communication we engage with every day. Media professionals are analysts, creators and communicators. They understand people, technology and popular culture. They use words, images and sounds to tell stories and influence audiences.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Media offers eight different specialisations:
- Immersive Media
- Journalism
- Marketing
- Photographic Imaging
- Popular Music
- Social Media and Digital Promotion
- Sonic Arts
- Story Production
- Visual Design.

Depending on your interests, you’ll get chances to:
- understand the media industry and issues shaping it
- gain real-world experience with major media networks and outlets
- read the news live on air to audiences of thousands
- record, mix, master and produce sonic projects
- design digital entertainment experiences
- explore Japanese media cultures through study tours in Kyoto.

Augment your career reality

The immersive media wave is growing, with virtual, augmented and mixed reality set to explode. Exciting opportunities are emerging everywhere—from marketing, entertainment and digital art, to training and education. And then there’s gaming, which now generates over $134 billion annually.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Media (Immersive Media) gives you the skills and knowledge to ride the VR, AR and MR career wave. In addition to gaining broad knowledge and understanding of the media industry and digital storytelling, you will:
- build a suite of VR, AR and MR creative and technical skills
- develop a firm grasp of gaming theory, history and production
- gain complementary 3D modelling abilities
- work with high-quality technology
- learn from experienced industry professionals.

You’ll also gain invaluable real-world experience through an industry placement.

Where could it take you?

You might take the creative lead on a Fortnite-like global gaming phenomenon. You could create next-level simulators for our fighter pilots or surgeons. Perhaps you’ll develop unforgettable virtual experiences of the world’s most incredible environments—or even other planets.
Make every post a winner

In today's commercial and media landscape, an organisation that isn’t all over social and online media is pretty much, well, 'all over'. More and more, the digital environment is where we connect—with each other, businesses, news and culture.

It's where opinions are aired, attitudes influenced and loyalty won. Master this domain and the world's at your fingertips.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Media (Social Media and Digital Promotion) gives you the skills and insight to capitalise on the incredible career opportunities presented by the global social media phenomenon.

In addition to gaining broad knowledge of the media industry and digital storytelling, you will:
• develop a firm grasp of effective image- and brand-building principles
• build a suite of public relations and marketing communication skills tailored to the digital realm
• gain a thorough understanding of how to build and manage media relationships
• unpack the screen and sound industries' unique opportunities and requirements
• learn from experienced industry professionals.

You’ll also gain invaluable real-world experience through an industry placement.

Where could it take you?

You might help a product-focused technology provider reposition as a market-driven problem solver through ongoing customer dialogue. You could reinvent a once-publicity-shy consulting firm as a social-savvy thought leader. Or perhaps you’ll get a not-for-profit’s socially conscious message on Gen Z’s agenda. You could even conduct in-depth market research for a fashion giant to inform its global advertising.

Touch the world on-screen

Our love of 'moving pictures' is deep and enduring—and for good reason. Film, TV and video have a greater capacity to thrill, move, enlighten and inspire than any other medium.

This gives those who use it to tell our stories the potential to enrich our lives in countless ways. And with the continuing growth of global streaming services, those content creators are in high demand.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Media (Story Production) gives you the skills and knowledge to capitalise on this explosion of creative opportunity.

In addition to gaining broad knowledge and understanding of the media industry and digital storytelling, you will:
• build an extensive suite of creative and technical production skills
• learn how to produce compelling content for TV, cinema and online platforms
• develop a firm grasp of narrative, scriptwriting and aesthetic principles
• work with high-quality technology
• learn from experienced industry professionals.

You’ll also have the opportunity to explore the art of high-impact sound design. And you’ll gain invaluable real-world experience through an industry placement.

Where could it take you?

You might announce your talent to the world by producing a beautiful short film or groundbreaking TV pilot. You could become a powerful voice for change by creating a socially conscious web series. Perhaps you’ll help Marvel Studios add amazing new chapters to its cinematic universe. You could even turn your hand to the fast-paced worlds of broadcast news, advertising or corporate video production.

Nail the brief

Naturally inquisitive? Have a knack for storytelling?

Journalists love to explore big issues and get to the bottom of things. They care about what’s happening in the world and are always on the hunt for reliable information. As truth seekers and communicators, journalists have the potential to really influence.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Media (Journalism) sets you up for success in today's fast-paced news environment. You will:
• build research, interviewing and storytelling skills
• study writing and production for print, online and mobile media
• learn how to network, make contacts and develop sources
• practice judging newsworthiness, quality and accuracy
• experiment with multimedia approaches
• consider integrity and ethics, time and stress management, professionalism, and self-reflection
• write and read the news live on air to audiences of thousands.

You also undertake an invaluable industry placement through our Media Industry Transitions course.

Where could it take you?

You could be a sports correspondent at the next Olympic Games or interview celebrities and musicians for a lifestyle publication. You might find yourself reporting from conflict zones around the world. Perhaps you’ll investigate political corruption or big business.
The art of persuasion
Advertisements, newsletters, jingles, web campaigns—marketing uses media to give customers confidence in their decisions. It’s crucial to any brand’s recognition, reputation and growth.
Marketers are strategists and relationship builders. It’s their job to know what people want and to reach out in innovative ways.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Media (Marketing) develops business and media skills relevant across all industries. You will:
- understand buyer mind sets and behaviour
- learn modern marketing theories and research techniques
- analyse case studies and different marketing approaches
- prepare marketing reports and plans
- analyse consumer data to predict current and future trends
- practise advising on pricing, advertising, promotion, product mix, and selling and distribution channels.

You also undertake an invaluable industry placement through our Media Industry Transitions course.

Where could it take you?
You’ll emerge ready for all sorts of exciting roles in marketing and media. You could cook up international sales strategies for winemakers. You might manage companies’ creative teams, public relations or social media operations. Perhaps you’ll conduct in-depth market research for fashion giants and use it to make calls on advertising campaigns.

Capture magic
Like never before, we are living in a visually driven world.
Our Bachelor of Media (Photographic Imaging) gives you the skills and knowledge to contribute to visual culture and take your place in the professional realm.

What will you do?
We’ve teamed up with the Centre for Creative Industries at the Adelaide College of the Arts to give you the optimal study experience. You will:
- build technical skills with photographic and video cameras
- access a world-class photographic studio
- learn to use software tools for cataloguing, editing, processing and storing images
- experiment with manipulating and enhancing images
- develop your own personal visual style
- practise meeting client briefs
- learn a range of photo and video techniques for use in advertising, editorials, portraiture, still-life, architecture, fashion and illustration.

You also undertake an invaluable industry placement through our Media Industry Transitions course.

Where could it take you?
You could shoot for local businesses, fashion magazines or big brands. You might travel the world on nature photography assignments. Perhaps you’ll produce video content for government agencies, make indie documentaries or publish visual essays.

Tune in to the present
Popular music has wide appeal in society. Those working in the music and media industries understand how dynamic, influential and exhilarating it can be.
Our Bachelor of Media (Popular Music) focuses on the presence and production of music in pop culture.

What will you do?
The popular music specialisation gives you the skills and knowledge to succeed in today’s fast-paced music and media environments. You will:
- explore cutting-edge digital technologies used in music production
- build a unique digital identity, presence and composition style
- access up-to-the minute research in contemporary music history and analysis
- develop extensive music and media literacy.

You also undertake an invaluable industry placement through our Media Industry Transitions course.

Where could it take you?
You could establish, promote and manage your own music studio. You might host radio shows on a national station. Perhaps you’ll book bands, run an entertainment venue, compose backing tracks or take to the stage yourself.

Note: an audition is required for this degree.
Resonate with audiences

Sound is an often overlooked yet crucial part of media production. Can you imagine your favourite film without the swelling soundtrack? Do you think you’d have as much fun gaming if there was nothing coming from your headphones?

Our Bachelor of Media (Sonic Arts) focuses on the strategic use of sound in media.

What will you do?
The Sonic Arts specialisation gives you the skills and knowledge to express creative ideas through sound. You will:
- examine sound’s history and development in film, television and games
- learn to record, mix, produce and master in sound engineering and technical studies
- experiment with interactive design, digital media, computer music composition, studio recording and live performance
- explore the psychological and aesthetic effects of sound.

You also undertake an invaluable industry placement through our Media Industry Transitions course.

Where could it take you?
You could work as a foley artist, creating sound effects and enhancing the overall aesthetic effects of sound.

You might work for a national radio station or put your skills to use at an experimental music studio.

See more in every scene
Virtually every human story—emotional, social and cultural, from the glorious to the shameful—has been told on the silver screen. Through film we reflect and resist, celebrate and grow. We imagine new ways and see life from others’ perspectives.

It’s one of our most loved and valuable art forms—and our appetite for its analysis and discussion is voracious.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Media (Film Studies) gives you the skills and knowledge to expertly interpret and critique film from all over the world.

In addition to gaining broad insight into the media industry and digital storytelling, you will:
- develop deep knowledge of film genres and styles throughout history, with special attention given to highly influential French cinema
- be introduced to Asia’s unique contemporary screen culture
- grasp the principles of quality scriptwriting and feature-film adaptation
- explore the art of high-impact sound design
- learn from experienced industry professionals.

You’ll also gain invaluable real-world experience through an industry placement.

Where could it take you?
You might rack up thousands of loyal followers with your own review vlog or podcast. You could become an influential pop-culture analyst for BuzzFeed or Mashable. Perhaps you’ll write the definitive retrospective on your favourite genre’s golden cinematic period. Experience of films in post-production.

You might make soundtracks and voiceovers for adventure video games. Perhaps you’ll work for a national radio station or put your skills to use at an experimental music studio.

MUSIC
Australia's leading music school

With a distinguished history dating back to 1883, the University of Adelaide’s Elder Conservatorium is widely respected as one of the Australia’s leading music institutions. The conservatorium offers innovative degrees covering all professional areas of the music industry to meet the needs and aspirations of a wide variety of emerging musicians, performers, and creatives.

Sia Furler Institute for Contemporary Music and Media

In March 2016, The Hon. Jay Weatherill, Premier of South Australia, launched the Sia Furler Institute for Contemporary Music and Media.

The Institute provides an environment in which contemporary music and media teaching and practice flourishes; and students are prepared for diverse careers in contemporary music performance and composition, film, digital and other new media, sound engineering and music technologies.

Auditions

You’ll need to attend an audition/interview for each area of specialisation, regardless of the number or type of music degrees you apply for. The audition/interview will assess your skill level and potential for future studies. Offers are made on the basis of the audition/interview score, academic achievement and the musicianship test.

The musicianship test assesses your general level of musicianship, and involves the ability to identify and recognise musical concepts within aural, written and theoretical contexts. The test covers:

- aural questions covering rhythm, tonality, melody and harmony
- score interpretation questions about a given short piano extract
- theoretical questions, such as keys, major and minor scales, intervals and chords.

For details regarding audition rounds and the application process, visit music.adelaide.edu.au/future/auditions

Take your music further
Want to become a master of your art? Committed to a career in music? High-achieving? The Bachelor of Music (Advanced) is a distinctive degree for passionate students who want to excel.

What will you do?
Our advanced music degree creates a unique environment where you can thrive creatively and reach your full potential. You will:
- benefit from more intensive, one-on-one tuition
- access special opportunities for higher-level study through masterclasses and professional placements
- take advanced classes in your specialisation
- become a member of a small but distinctive community within the wider University.

You’ll focus your abilities in one of the following specialisations:
- Performance (Classical or Jazz or Voice)
- Creative Arts (Composition or Popular Music or Sonic Arts)
- Research Studies (Musicology or Music Education/Pedagogy)

Note: You must maintain a GPA of 5.0 or you’ll be required to transfer to the Bachelor of Music.

Where could it take you?
Your advanced professional training will give you significant employment advantages in the music industry. You could secure a place in a world-class symphony orchestra. You might perform internationally as an influential jazz virtuoso, or win an Academy Award for Best Score as a film composer. Perhaps you’ll discover an entirely new genre of music.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC (CLASSICAL VOICE)

SATAC CODE: 324069
DURATION: 3 years full-time
CAMPUS: North Terrace

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:
Audition and SACE Stage 2 (or equivalent)

Raise your voice
Music majors work hard. They pour themselves into their passion. Our Bachelor of Music (Classical Voice) is about dedication. It is for those who love the performing arts and self-expression through song.

Great singers entertain, inspire and move. They project humour, pathos, love and anger. They are a vital organ in the world’s body of culture and beauty.

What will you do?
Elder Conservatorium’s Classical Voice program welcomes you into a community as passionate about music and singing as you are. You will:
- listen to the greats and immerse yourself in music theory
- work with international performers and teachers
- sing in choirs and ensembles
- receive one-on-one tuition and language instruction (Italian, German and French)
- learn stagecraft and theatre skills
- perform in operatic and musical theatre productions.

Where could it take you?
You might grace the stage as an opera singer. You could travel the world as a professional chorister. You could even be the next great lieder singer. Specialised training will help you find your voice’s place.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC (COMPOSITION)

SATAC CODE: 324062
DURATION: 3 years full-time
CAMPUS: North Terrace

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:
Audition and SACE Stage 2 (or equivalent)

Make music that lasts
Composition is a craft. From the music of Bach or Mozart to the film scores of Hans Zimmer, musical creations are some of humanity’s greatest achievements.

Composers move, enchant and entertain. They conceive works of timeless beauty and reach audiences in ways words cannot.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Music (Composition) has both a strong focus on classical traditions and an acute ear for the demands of the 21st century composer. You will:
- learn a broad range of stylistic approaches for composing music
- develop your compositional ‘voice’ through one-on-one tuition, lectures and tutorials
- study the principles of musical structure, notation and text setting, melodic writing, harmonic and rhythmic invention, counterpoint, and instrumental colour and texture
- consider the practical and work-related sides of creative music making
- explore music aesthetics, media and technology.

We also provide opportunities for ensemble performance and collaboration in film, dance and theatre.

Where could it take you?
You might fill concert halls and opera houses with live audiences or release albums recorded from home. You could compose award-winning scores for film or TV series. Perhaps you’ll write for top-tier soloists or large-scale ballets.

Inspire the next generation of music makers

Music’s creative and uplifting presence is essential in young people’s lives. Great music teachers help kids express themselves, take pride in what they do and appreciate new things. They give emerging musicians the skills and confidence they need to thrive.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Music (Music Education and Pedagogy) offers music-specific education courses and a personally tailored program to suit your interests and career aspirations. You will:
- build skills in your creative specialty
- learn methods for vocal and instrumental coaching
- explore key principles in 21st century music education
- develop lesson plans based on different approaches
- expand your creative abilities and musical skill set through practice teaching activities.

Where could it take you?
You could tutor in after-school programs or a private music studio. You might start a rock camp to empower young Australian musicians. Perhaps you’ll be the next red Wiggle!

Note: further study is required to be eligible for South Australian teacher registration. Visit ua.edu.au/degree-finder and search Master of Teaching.

Enthrall audiences

Do you want to do justice to great concertos and symphonies? To embody and share your passion? Our Bachelor of Music (Classical Performance) challenges you to reach the highest standards of professional performance.

What will you do?
You’ll receive one-on-one instrumental training and attend masterclasses in your specialisation. We offer the following instruments:
- classical brass (trumpet, trombone, tuba, French horn, euphonium)
- classical keyboard (piano, organ, harpsichord)
- classical percussion
- classical strings (violin, viola, cello, double bass, guitar, harp)
- classical woodwind (flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, saxophone, recorder).

You’ll also:
- take classes in technique and repertoire
- pursue aural, theoretical and historical studies
- immerse yourself in ensemble activities, including orchestral and chamber music studies
- benefit from weekly performance opportunities with feedback from both staff and students.

Where could it take you?
You might lead grand voices to transcendental heights as an accompanist. You could travel the globe as an orchestral musician. Perhaps you’ll curate concerts or find international stardom as a soloist.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC (JAZZ PERFORMANCE)

SATAC CODE 324064
DURATION 3 years full-time
CAMPUS North Terrace

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Audition and SACE Stage 2 (or equivalent)

Master a musical dialect

The Bachelor of Music (Jazz Performance) welcomes you into one of Australia’s most vibrant and innovative jazz communities. Our staff and guest artists include some of the finest national and international jazz musicians and educators. Our graduates are performing, teaching, composing, arranging and recording throughout Australia, Europe, Asia, the U.S. and more.

What will you do?
Our curriculum covers traditional and contemporary theory and method and is committed to the highest standards of professional performance. You’ll receive one-on-one tuition and attend masterclasses in your specialisation. Options include:
- bass
- drums
- guitar
- keyboard
- trumpet
- trombone
- saxophone
- voice.

You’ll also:
- enjoy regular performances featuring big bands, jazz choirs, and Latin and small jazz ensembles
- take classes in theory, improvisation, arrangement and history
- learn about looping and sampling
- explore career paths, music business and world music
- benefit from weekly performance opportunities with feedback from both staff and students.

Where could it take you?
You might take your own music to the top. You could start a jazz club. Perhaps you’ll grace every stage in New Orleans or tour the world as a professional accompanist.
Map new musical territories
Musicology is the study of music in its cultural, social, historical and stylistic contexts. It’s about the way that music ‘works’. And not just notes on a page or sounds in a recording. Music also affects individual actions, social behaviour and expression in both Western and non-Western societies.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Music (Musicology) takes your contextual knowledge of music to the next level. You will:
• explore different approaches to music research
• gain keen aural and analytical skills
• develop high-level understanding of music history and repertoire
• analyse live and recorded music
• build confidence in oral and written communication.

Where could it take you?
You can also pursue a wide range of studies in other areas. If you’re interested in performance, you can take ensemble classes subject to audition.

Inspire as a contemporary performing artist
Want to be a leader in contemporary music? To have unmatched insight? Like to shake up the industry?
Studying popular music is about valuing your passion and pushing boundaries.

What will you do?
Our Popular Music degree equips you with the knowledge and skills needed to excel as a creative professional. You will:
• develop your own unique identity, presence and style as a song writer
• explore cutting-edge technologies for music production
• have 24/7 access to rehearsal and recording studios to develop your work
• collaborate in song writing and performance classes
• receive mentorship and business coaching from industry professionals
• research and analyse contemporary music
• showcase your original music through regular performances.

Where could it take you?
Our graduates go on to all sorts of exciting music careers. You could take to the stage, or work behind the scenes at major festivals. You might be a producer, coaching other artists in the studio. Perhaps you’ll write songs for pop stars or spend your work hours at concerts as a music journalist.

Innovate in sound
The creation and distribution of music and sound has been transformed by digital technology. It’s accelerated the growth of the arts, entertainment, creative and media industries into huge global enterprises. Our Bachelor of Music (Sonic Arts) prepares you to play a leading creative role in this exciting landscape.

What will you do?
Sonic Arts incorporates all applications of contemporary technology to sound and music. You will:
• take courses in composition, studio recording, live performance and digital media
• have 24/7 access to specialised facilities, including production studios, recording rooms and digital audio laboratories
• research sound theory and music history
• collaborate on group performance projects
• learn from international artists and industry professionals.

You’ll follow your interests across a range of specialised courses and electives in:
• sound engineering
• music production
• film sound
• software design
• computer music composition
• instrument building
• computer game audio
• interactivity
• sound design.

Where could it take you?
You might invent instruments, write video game soundtracks or develop music software. You could tour the world as a live electronic musician. Perhaps you’ll be a producer, creatively advising, coaching and recording other artists in the studio.
BACHELOR OF MUSIC THEATRE

CENTRE FOR ABORIGINAL STUDIES IN MUSIC (CASM)

What is CASM?

CASM is a specialist Australian Indigenous music centre located within the Elder Conservatorium of Music. It’s Australia’s only devoted university-based centre providing tertiary-level music programs for studies in Australian Indigenous music, and provides specialised educational programs and mentoring for Indigenous students. It’s also an important centre for Australian Indigenous music production.

CASM Foundation Year

CASM offers an inspiring and engaging Foundation Year program, which is delivered over two semesters and provides a pathway for Indigenous Australians into university.

We offer:
- specialist music training
- access to a music recording studio
- Indigenous tutoring assistance
- preparation for further study in music and other degrees
- student accommodation service.

Our program is HECS-HELP free, ABSTUDY approved and is open to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australians aged 17 years and over.

CASM studios

Throughout their studies, CASM students are actively involved in musical composition, performance and recording, including studio production. Much of this work is undertaken in the CASM studios, which provide state-of-the-art rehearsal and recording facilities.

Further studies at CASM

CASM offers prerequisite-free courses in Indigenous music for undergraduate students, as well as specialised research training in Indigenous music studies for honours and higher-degree-by-research students.

Careers and further study pathways

CASM prepares graduates to participate in professional life as performers, composers, arrangers, educators, researchers, sound engineers, producers, arts administrators, researchers, and more. Students regularly participate in community performance events and learn about the music industry, developing skills useful for community development activities involving music.

Students are also prepared for ongoing study and training in a variety of fields, including: music, teacher training, education, sound engineering, psychology, community development, youth work, arts management, health, linguistics, arts, theatre, media and broadcasting, visual arts and dance, and research.

Student support

CASM programs are ABSTUDY approved, and available to students from around Australia. Studies at CASM may be taken part-time, although ABSTUDY support requires a 0.75 fulltime equivalent study load. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students at the University of Adelaide can obtain support through Wirulu Yarlu Aboriginal Education, and the University’s wider support services.

Individualised academic support is provided through the Indigenous Tutorial Assistance Scheme, which offers free tutorial support for Indigenous students. Wirulu Yarlu also provides student support in areas such as ABSTUDY, accommodation, financial assistance, facilities, learning support, mentoring, scholarships, and cadetships.

How to apply for CASM programs

Selection for CASM programs can take place at any time, though most applicants apply between September and January for a Semester 1 start, or from June to July for a Semester 2 start. For more information and an application form, visit ua.edu.au/casm-foundation and select Apply Now, or email CASM at casm@adelaide.edu.au.

Better the world through social understanding

The forces of change in today’s technologically advanced and global society are complex. In our social sciences degrees you will develop the expertise to analyse and understand the issues, and then think of ways to improve and help society.

Our academic staff are active researchers and leaders in the fields of anthropology, Asian studies, criminology, geography, environment and population, gender studies, international development, politics and international relations, and sociology. With outstanding teaching across so many disciplines, you will thoroughly explore current thinking and debates, and become a well-rounded voice of reason ready to contribute to society.

Arts internship

Maintain a high GPA and you’ll have the opportunity in third-year to take part in an internship with an organisation in the arts, media, government or environment. This includes a range of public- and business-sector agencies. You’ll use the knowledge from your university study in a practical work environment, build valuable networks and gain experience that counts towards your degree and prepares you for your future career.

Parliamentary internship

This internship provides a research placement with a member of the Parliament of South Australia (MP). You’ll gain first-hand experience of parliament’s workings and have the opportunity to work with an MP on a research topic nominated by the member. By the end of the internship, you will have an enhanced understanding of parliamentary and public policy processes.

Environmental Policy and Management internship

This internship allows you to work with an organisation engaged in environmental policy, planning, research or management.

Study Overseas opportunities

The University of Adelaide has exchange links with over 100 institutions around the world, giving you the opportunity to study overseas and have it count towards your degree. You could undertake a short study tour of just a few weeks, complete a specific program over a month or two, or soak up the culture for a semester or full academic year.

Make a career out of crime

Criminology is the study of crime and society's responses to it. It goes far beyond 'whodunit' into age-old questions of morality and fairness. Criminologists study the stories and problems behind criminal acts. They work to understand crime through critical analysis.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Criminology strengthens your 'criminological imagination' as you:
- examine criminal and anti-social behaviour
- debate the causes and consequences of crime
- explore the role of inequality, power and politics
- consider violence, deviancy and policing
- learn about online, corporate and transnational crime
- question justice and corrections systems.

Where could it take you?

Criminology graduates go on to all sorts of fascinating careers. You could find yourself working in the field of cyber-defence. You could advocate to improve the prison system. You might want to become an investigative journalist and host your own gripping True Crime podcast.

Stand up for the environment

Earth is home to 7 billion people—and we're careless. Businesses dump waste into oceans. Loggers cut down precious forests. Nature suffers as a result.

Environmental policy aims to stop this happening, through mechanisms like rainforest protections, fishing guidelines and wildlife sanctuaries. Those who develop it are problem-solvers, standing between the environment and processes that exploit it.

What will you do?

Our Bachelor of Environmental Policy and Management challenges you to make a positive impact. You will:
- research how humans affect natural environments
- explore approaches to conservation and sustainability
- create policy and plans for managing environmental problems
- learn about climate change, biodiversity, population growth and resource scarcity.

There are also travel opportunities. We offer exchanges and study tours where you'll tackle real-life problems in the field.

Where could it take you?

Environmental expertise is in demand. You could spend your days outdoors as a park ranger or draw up plans for big business and government. You might set up programs to restore habitats for local wildlife. Perhaps you'll work towards sustainability in remote communities, build policy around renewable energy, or get involved with ecotourism.

What will you do?

We’ll support you in developing the skills, knowledge and attributes needed to make a real and positive difference in the lives of others. You will:
- examine how government, business, non-governmental organisations and individuals influence development
- learn how development groups function and make money
- explore the major contributing factors leading to issues such as extreme poverty, poor health, fragile governance, inequality and environmental vulnerability
- analyse possible solutions to issues in the developing world
- practice a range of skills required in the field.

You can also get in-country experience by studying abroad. The University partners the Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies. We offer programs with Scope Global in Vietnam, Indonesia, Africa and Asia.

Where could it take you?

Graduates go on to all sorts of rewarding careers that focus on strengthening communities’ wellbeing in developing countries. You could be an international aid agency employee or humanitarian aid worker. You might provide hands-on support in disaster zones. Our Bachelor of Peace and Conflict Studies is the first and only degree of its kind offered in South Australia. It will equip you with the knowledge and skills to make positive contributions to conflict resolution and peacebuilding initiatives around the world. You will:

• explore the history of peace, conflict, justice and human rights from a global perspective
• learn to manage, resolve and transform conflict through contemporary practices
• hear from professionals working in the humanitarian sector
• major or minor in a complementary discipline of your choice
• go on optional study tours to see how peace has successfully been built in nations affected by conflict
• be able to study abroad at international universities.

Where could it take you?
There are many exciting employment opportunities in the humanitarian, international development and peacebuilding sector, such as policy advisor, project officer, or aid agency worker.

BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS AND ECONOMICS

SATAC CODE 334691
INDICATIVE SELECTION RANK / IB 65.55 / 24
DURATION 3 years full-time
CAMPUS North Terrace
GUARANTEED ENTRY 70

For big picture intellects
Understanding social complexities requires looking through more than one lens. Students of philosophy, politics and economics are deeply acquainted with social and political institutions. They reason rigorously and reflect on moral and ethical values. They understand how resources must be managed and that economics influences everything.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Philosophy, Politics and Economics has a structure unique in South Australia, and highly regarded internationally. You will:

• learn broadly across all three areas before focusing on your chosen discipline
• analyse complex political and economic scenarios
• critically debate morality, freedom and social justice
• understand and develop responses to pressing real-world problems
• benefit from contact and mentoring with experts and researchers
• gain practical insights from guest speakers within political and business communities
• career plan from early on and undertake an internship aligned with your goals.

Where could it take you?
You’ll graduate career-ready and prepared to problem-solve at all levels of complexity. You could advise on policy, write it or run for government yourself. You might move into research or media commentary. Perhaps you’ll assist global businesses with decision making as a consultant, or lead them to success as a CEO.

Industry placement
The Bachelor of Philosophy, Politics and Economics gives you opportunities to develop practical workplace readiness throughout your degree.
Core seminars centre around topic-based work on real-world issues, and involve experienced practitioners from business and government. Plus, you’ll undertake an industry internship, where you’ll apply your developing knowledge in a practical work environment and build valuable professional networks.
BACHELOR OF SOCIOLOGY

Use your voice to empower society
What divides us? What causes inequalities? How does the media influence our lives? Sociology is the study of human activity in societies. It’s concerned with group interactions and their consequences. It’s about questioning the social world and how it fits together.
Sociologists research human experience and offer new perspectives. They explore diverse topics—from race, gender and class to religion, love and war.

What will you do?
Our Bachelor of Sociology challenges you to think critically, promote positive social change and empower those in need. You will:
• identify societal trends and power structures
• debate and problem-solve around social issues
• study influential thinkers throughout history
• develop high-level research and analysis skills
• investigate areas of interest such as crime prevention, social control, globalisation, cultures and subcultures.

Where could it take you?
You’ll graduate ready to make an informed and constructive difference. You might end up working as an advocate for at-risk youth. You could push to connect vulnerable groups with health and support services. Perhaps you’ll advise on human rights policy or run for government yourself.

“DUE TO MY UNIQUE STUDY SCHEDULE I WILL GRADUATE WITH A BACHELOR’S DEGREE, MULTIPLE INTERNATIONAL AND PRACTICAL EXPERIENCES, AND 4 YEARS WORK EXPERIENCE IN THE FIELD. I AIM TO WORK IN THE FIELD OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT, HUMANITARIAN AID, CHARITIES, AND STILL CONTINUE MY WORK WITH SPECIAL NEEDS EDUCATION.”

Why combine Media with Criminology?
Media is about mass communication, entertainment and education. Criminology investigates the sociology of crime and deviance. Both focus on a growing national and international field: security, social order and well-being. The two come together seamlessly in a range of exciting fields—from community development to investigative journalism.

What will you do?
• Learn from locally and globally active researchers.
• Debate and research the causes and consequences of crime.
• Consider how crime is represented in our culture, and the influence this has on policy and public opinion.
• Build skills in digital and interactive media, writing, research, reporting, storytelling, radio and video production.
• Get industry experience with major media networks and outlets.

TEACHING

   (UniSA ranked 101-150, Flinders ranked 151-200)
Inspire our next generation

Our Bachelor of Teaching double degrees are the first step towards a rewarding career in which you can inspire, challenge and guide the young people in our community who will become society's leaders of tomorrow.

You will major in two subject areas to teach in the middle or secondary years (7–10 and 8–12 respectively) of schooling. The main focus in the degrees’ first three years is on completing two majors (in two teaching areas or subjects), or a major and a minor sequence. You’ll explore educational issues and practice, and undertake a professional experience placement in a school every year of the degree.

You will also learn wellbeing strategies that help you consider the needs of the learners in your class as well as yourself. And through our unique e-learning program, you’ll develop skills to teach the next generation of citizens in a rapidly changing technological world.

The final year is aligned to school terms, and all study is linked to teaching methodology and pedagogy (the why and how of teaching). You’ll also have two blocks of teaching in schools to practise planning and assessing learning.

If all courses and placements are completed, you’ll be able to register to teach in term 4, giving you a substantial head start in your career and the potential to immediately start earning a professional income.

Placements

Practical experience in a middle or secondary school setting is vital to develop and practise your teaching skills. The placements are a full-time, continuous, in-school teaching experience. The blocks of professional experience include:

- Year 1: 10 days
- Year 2: 10 days
- Year 3: 10 days
- Year 4: 2 blocks of 25 days

Professional accreditation

The Bachelor of Teaching double degree provides a professional qualification recognised for teacher registration purposes throughout Australia and, in most cases, overseas.

Additional requirements

Before you graduate from your Teaching degree, you will need to pass the Literacy and Numeracy Test for Initial Teacher Education (also referred to as LANTITE). To find out more, go to teacheredtest.acer.edu.au/.

The University of Adelaide will reimburse you when you successfully complete the Literacy component of the test at your first attempt.

Career readiness

Graduates are well prepared for a range of roles in education, including:

- curriculum leader or writer
- education coordinator or consultant
- education officer or educator in non-school settings
- education policy writer or adviser
- professional development or training position in non-school sites
- school services officer
- teacher, lead or head teacher, school leader
- tutor.

Your degree sets you up for further study and career progression to leadership positions.

Master of Teaching (Middle and Secondary)

The Master of Teaching (Middle and Secondary) is suitable for those who already have a degree specialising in subjects relevant to middle and secondary school teaching (Years 7 - 12). This two-year Masters is taught in accelerated mode in 18 months (1.5 years).

“THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE HAS A CERTAIN PRESTIGE ABOUT IT. EMPLOYERS HAVE COME TO EXPECT EXCEPTIONAL GRADUATES FROM ADELAIDE UNI. I BELIEVE THAT HAVING A DEGREE FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE PUTS ME IN A FAVOURABLE POSITION WHEN APPLYING FOR WORK.”

These annual fees are indicative only as actual charges are determined at the course level based on the area of study. Fees may increase in 2020.

HECS Higher Education Loan
This program, known as HECS-HELP assists eligible students to pay their student contribution. Further information is available at: www.studyassist.gov.au

Scholarships
The University of Adelaide has a range of scholarships available to students from a variety of backgrounds and academic levels.
Comprehensive information about scholarships, and how to apply, can be obtained by contacting us (refer below for details) or visiting the scholarships website: adelaide.edu.au/scholarships

Student services and amenities fee
Students are charged an annual student services and amenities fee (SSAF) to assist with the funding of student services and amenities at the University. In 2019, the SSAF amount for full-time students was $503, and for part-time students it was $227. Fees may increase in 2019. Eligible students may defer this fee to an SA-HELP loan.
For further information about the SSAF and SA-HELP visit: adelaide.edu.au/student/finance and select Other Fees and Charges.

Additional costs
Students may be required to pay for specialist equipment, reading materials, etc. Students are advised not to purchase any equipment until they receive their faculty/school handbook, available during orientation.
For more information on other program-related fees and charges, visit adelaide.edu.au/student/finance and select Other Fees and Charges.

Adjustment Factors
SATAC centrally administer a South Australian Universities Adjustment Factors Scheme. The two schemes are the SA Universities Equity Scheme and the SA Language, Literacy and Mathematics Adjustment Factors Scheme.
For more details, please visit adelaide.edu.au and search Adjustment Factors.

Degree intake
Many undergraduate degrees will allow students to begin study in February or July. Please refer to individual degrees on Degree Finder (www.adelaide.edu.au/degree-finder) to check whether midyear entry is available.
Where Degree Finder states ‘subject to availability’ applicants should contact Ask Adelaide (refer below for details) to check whether midyear entry is available.

Deferring your studies
Most undergraduate degrees can be deferred for up to two years. Please refer to specific degrees for exceptions.

English language requirements for international students
All international students undertaking an Australian year 12 program are required to achieve a Pass grade or above in one of the approved English as a Second Language or English language subjects.
If an applicant attempts, but does not pass, the English language subject then alternative options, such as an acceptable English language proficiency test result, may be arranged.
Details of recognised subjects and recognised tests and requirements are available by visiting international.adelaide.edu.au/apply, selecting Admissions Information from the menu, then English Language Requirements.
Successful completion of the International Baccalaureate (IB) diploma meets the English language requirements of the University of Adelaide.

Permanent residency
International students who have studied an Australian year 12 program or the IB and expect to be granted Australian permanent residency before the commencement of their university study must contact the International Office.
To contact the International Office for more information, visit international.adelaide.edu.au, select About Us from the menu, then International Office and Enquire Now.
