

RRI Charter of Membership

The RRI Charter of Membership outlines the core responsibilities and commitments expected of Robinson Research Institute (RRI) members and the reciprocal commitments of the Institute. It serves as a companion to the RRI Membership Policy, providing a clear understanding of the mutual agreement essential for fostering a dynamic and impactful research environment.

RRI member responsibilities and commitments

As a member of the Robinson Research Institute, I commit to:

- Align my research interests and activities with RRI's vision, values, and strategic objectives, particularly its Accelerator Programmes and Foundation Science Streams.
- Actively participate in the RRI community through attendance at events, contribution to initiatives, and engagement with other members.
- Engage in collaborative research, including industry and commercial partnerships, and prioritising translational opportunities to maximise impact where appropriate.
- Serve as an ambassador for RRI and the University of Adelaide within my professional networks and the broader community.
- Uphold high standards of behaviour, collegiality, and scientific integrity.
- For Full Members, dedicate a significant portion of my research to RRI strategy, actively engage with at least one Accelerator Programme or Foundation Science Stream, acknowledge RRI affiliation in all representations of my RRI-related work, including grant applications, publications and presentations.
- For Associate Members, acknowledge RRI affiliation in representations connected to my institute membership.

RRI commitments to members

The Robinson Research Institute commits to providing:

- A collaborative and dynamic environment that fosters research excellence and innovation.
- Opportunities for professional recognition, career development, and interdisciplinary exposure.
- Support for research activities, including building strong engagement and partnerships between clinical and research leaders, and their teams, to maximise data and capabilities for enhanced translational outcomes.
- Strategic alignment of membership with the Institute's objectives to drive impactful research.
- Clear articulation of the benefits of membership, ensuring mutual value and shared goals.

Membership Pledge

By becoming a member of Robinson Research Institute, I acknowledge that I have read and understood the key responsibilities and commitments outlined in the RRI Charter of Membership and the accompanying RRI Membership Policy.

I am committed to actively contributing to RRI's vision of achieving world-class research in reproductive health and improving outcomes for women and children.

Prospective and renewing members will be asked to confirm their commitment to this Charter in the online membership application form.
