

Workspace

The Workspace in Aurora can be used for creating lists of publications which can be Exported to a text file or ReferenceManager/ Endnote for saving or printing when needed.

The Workspace can also be used to join publications when duplicate records are identified.

The green and yellow icons allow you to view the full details of the publication or remove a publication from the Workspace.

The box in the black menu ribbon will display how many publications you currently have in your Workspace.

The Workspace can also be used to join publications when duplicate records are identified.
